

PLANS FOR STATE FUNERAL OF QUEEN ON SUNDAY

THOUSANDS PASS BEFORE QUEEN'S BIER; ALL AGES AND CONDITIONS OF LIFE INCLUDED

Rich and Poor, Old and Young, of Lofty and Low Degree, They Do Honor to Dead Hawaiian Monarch—Official Respects Paid—Hour of Closing Chapel to Public Extended Until Late at Night

Thousands of people thronged the grounds of Kawaiahao church last night and crowded the steps and vestibule of the historic building, awaiting their opportunity to enter and pay their last homage to Hawaii's queen. Many there were whose long wait was unrewarded, and who had to go away without even a look inside the church. Long after 10 o'clock, the official hour for ending the lying-in-state, a continual procession was wending its silent way under the great kahilis, around the unconfined form of the queen, and down the aisles and out into the cool, sweet night air.

It was not until a quarter past eleven o'clock that the church was finally cleared of its visitors. When only those who were very near and dear to the queen remained to watch, the kahili-bearers backed out of the presence of the royal dead to wait until the steel casket should be sealed before again resuming their watch around the bier.

The procession that passed up the kahili-guarded aisles was one that could hardly be matched anywhere else in the world. Every kind and condition of man, every color, almost every division of the human family was represented. Old men and women whose time on earth is short, hobbled slowly up the aisles, followed by school children whose eyes, big with wonder looked at something they could not comprehend. Laborers, fresh from their toil, walked elbow to elbow with professional men. Oriental fathers with babies in their arms were followed by society matrons and debutantes in filmy crepe de chine. A priest walked side by side with a captain of the Salvation Army, and a small boy, his blue denim overalls kept up by a single suspender, marched solemnly beside a tourist from the states wearing the latest creation in millinery. Japanese women in kimonos, Chinese women in trousers, Filipino women in big, bouffant sleeves, and Korean women in the white, slim costume of their lost land—all a silent procession followed each other around the bier.

LILIUOKALANI'S FUNERAL WILL BE GUIDED PARTLY BY OLD PRECEDENT

Following in careful detail the precedents set for royal funerals by other years, the last services for Queen Liliuokalani on Sunday next will be impressive and significant of the link now broken between the Hawaii of the old days and the Hawaii of the present.

Those who have the funeral in charge have made a study of the old customs for such occasions and no effort is to be spared in this last tribute of all the people to the dead queen.

In this connection it is interesting to note the customs of old time for royal funerals and the organizations that took part in the procession. Always the procession followed the same route, out of the palace grounds to King street, along King to Nuuanu and up Nuuanu to the mausoleum. Here is the proclamation of January 29, 1891, that announced the death of King Kalakaua and the taking over of the throne by Princess Liliuokalani: "It having pleased Almighty God to close the earthly career of King Kalakaua on the 24th instant in San Francisco, California, U. S. A., we the members of the Cabinet, of His Late Majesty hereby proclaim by virtue of the 22nd Article of the Constitution, Her Royal Highness the Princess Liliuokalani, Queen of the Hawaiian Islands, under the style and title of Liliuokalani.

"God Preserve the Queen. "Given at Iolani Palace this 29th day of January, A. D. 1891." The notice that was issued to designate the length of the mourning period ordered that the court should wear full mourning until two weeks after the funeral and half mourning for two months after that. Ladies were to wear black with white trimming for full mourning and white with black trimming for half mourning. Government officials were to wear crepe on their uniforms. All representatives of the foreign countries were invited to observe the mourning period. The public wore badges of mourning.

King Kalakaua was buried on Sunday, Feb. 15, the funeral service being at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. Papers of that date say that the weather was beautiful. Order of Kalakaua's Procession The procession that took up the march to the cemetery was as follows: Mounted torch bearers, police, marshal of the kingdom and his aids, students of St. Louis College, students of Kamehameha school, students of Iolani College, children of the public schools, girls of Kawaiahao Seminary, St. Andrew's Priory, Oahu College, Portuguese societies, Honolulu fire department, Mechanics Benefit Union, Ancient Order of Foresters, American Legion of Honor, Knights of Pythias, George W. De Long Post of G. A. R., Independent Order of Odd Fellows, etc.

By a Russian orchestra. Beside the two tabu-sticks that guarded the head of the queen, the great golden globe with its standard that was the tabu stick of King Kalakaua, stood at the foot of the bier last night, having been placed there during the afternoon. Within the limits marked by these tabus not even the kahili-bearers could pass.

Crown Secured From Vaults The crown, whose absence was marked by so many in the early hours of lying-in-state, was at last secured from the safety deposit vaults by Col. Lauke, who, assisted by Mrs. Malli Smithies, formal mistress of the queen's robe and a life-long and intimate friend of Her Majesty, placed it on the royal brow about 11 o'clock yesterday morning, while the kahili-bearers rested with uplifted kahilis and the visitors in the church waited in breathless silence. At the same time the bracelet given to Liliuokalani by the Duke of Edinburgh was placed upon her wrist by Col. Lauke, who has been so close to the queen during all her years since her ascension to the throne and who guarded her interests and her health, safety and comfort during the later years of her life. As he clasped the bracelet around the thin wrist, he bent his head and touched the cold hand of his queen with his lips.

The watch which surrendered its kahilis to the Court Lunaillo watch at 8 o'clock yesterday evening, when the crowd was at its greatest, was made up of Ed. Boyd, W. K. Simerson, M. K. Cook, O. Stillman, I. Harbottle, M. J. K. Hopkins, O. Cummins and Ed. Stiles, with C. Widemann as captain. All wore the yellow and red feather cape of the high chiefs. The captain of the watch supplied by Court Lunaillo was Joe Ordenstein. That watch, too, wore the yellow cape, longer than the cape worn by the preceding watch.

Speech Is Tabu It is not permissible for any one to speak to the kahili-bearers while they are in their watching vestments, nor are they allowed to speak to each other—all speech being tabu until the watchers have removed their capes. The ushering of the visitors yesterday and last night was done by a number of young Hawaiians, superintended by High Chief Henry Hoshulu P. Beckley, wearing a rare feather cape, who held his station near the great tabu stick of King Kalakaua, at the foot of the bier. Last night Col. Lauke stood near the royal pew and directed the ushers.

Chief Justice A. G. M. Robertson, Associate Justice R. P. Quarles and Associate Justice James L. Coke attended the ceremonies together. Prince Kalaniana'ole was present nearly all day and evening. Consul General Moroi made the procession alone, and Maj. Francis J. Green, aide, appeared on behalf of the governor.

LILIUOKALANI'S FUNERAL WILL BE GUIDED PARTLY BY OLD PRECEDENT

Following in careful detail the precedents set for royal funerals by other years, the last services for Queen Liliuokalani on Sunday next will be impressive and significant of the link now broken between the Hawaii of the old days and the Hawaii of the present.

Those who have the funeral in charge have made a study of the old customs for such occasions and no effort is to be spared in this last tribute of all the people to the dead queen.

In this connection it is interesting to note the customs of old time for royal funerals and the organizations that took part in the procession. Always the procession followed the same route, out of the palace grounds to King street, along King to Nuuanu and up Nuuanu to the mausoleum. Here is the proclamation of January 29, 1891, that announced the death of King Kalakaua and the taking over of the throne by Princess Liliuokalani: "It having pleased Almighty God to close the earthly career of King Kalakaua on the 24th instant in San Francisco, California, U. S. A., we the members of the Cabinet, of His Late Majesty hereby proclaim by virtue of the 22nd Article of the Constitution, Her Royal Highness the Princess Liliuokalani, Queen of the Hawaiian Islands, under the style and title of Liliuokalani.

"God Preserve the Queen. "Given at Iolani Palace this 29th day of January, A. D. 1891." The notice that was issued to designate the length of the mourning period ordered that the court should wear full mourning until two weeks after the funeral and half mourning for two months after that. Ladies were to wear black with white trimming for full mourning and white with black trimming for half mourning. Government officials were to wear crepe on their uniforms. All representatives of the foreign countries were invited to observe the mourning period. The public wore badges of mourning.

King Kalakaua was buried on Sunday, Feb. 15, the funeral service being at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. Papers of that date say that the weather was beautiful. Order of Kalakaua's Procession The procession that took up the march to the cemetery was as follows: Mounted torch bearers, police, marshal of the kingdom and his aids, students of St. Louis College, students of Kamehameha school, students of Iolani College, children of the public schools, girls of Kawaiahao Seminary, St. Andrew's Priory, Oahu College, Portuguese societies, Honolulu fire department, Mechanics Benefit Union, Ancient Order of Foresters, American Legion of Honor, Knights of Pythias, George W. De Long Post of G. A. R., Independent Order of Odd Fellows, etc.

HOLIDAY DECLARED

Next Friday p. m.

OFFICIAL NOTICE

In honor of her late Majesty Liliuokalani, the afternoon of Friday, November 16, 1917, is hereby declared a holiday for the public schools and the public departments of the Territory of Hawaii.

LUCIUS E. PINKHAM, Governor.

TEN O'CLOCK IS HOUR ON SUNDAY FUNERAL BEGINS

Official announcement was made today by Maj. F. J. Green, aid to the governor, in charge of funeral arrangements for the late Queen Liliuokalani that the funeral services on Sunday morning will begin at 10 o'clock. The procession will start at 11 or 11:15 o'clock, the exact time had not been decided this morning.

Admission to the throne room will be by card only. A salute of 21 guns will be fired by the army as the procession leaves the grounds and a second salute will be fired at the cemetery. Whether this will be a volley of rifles or of artillery has not been settled as yet. A conference will be held on Friday between representatives of the army, navy and national guard, with Maj. Green representing the governor. Capt. George R. Clark, commandant of the naval station at Pearl Harbor, announces that a company of sailors will be sent for a part in the procession, also a company of marines. Capt. Robert Parker has been designated by Maj. Green as marshal in charge of the Hawaiian section of the procession. He is now making arrangements with the various Hawaiian societies which are to be represented.

SPECIAL MUSIC FOR THE QUEEN

Very beautiful special music was rendered yesterday at the Kawaiahao church in the ceremonies for the queen. Apart from the weird chanting which alone would have made the occasion different from any that could take place elsewhere in the United States, Hawaiian singers among the watchers, and others who went for that particular purpose, sang selections of Hawaiian music, all the people standing when "Hawaii Ponoi," the national air of the kingdom, was rendered.

July Paka, who had a notable stage career on the mainland, last night sang one of the coronation songs, entitled "Take Thy Wreath, Liliuokalani."

The Royal Hawaiian band played in the grounds yesterday afternoon, giving among selections the "Liliuokalani Funeral March," which Captain Henri Berger has just composed to be used at the queen's funeral. Captain Berger composed a special funeral march for both King Lunaillo and Kalakaua. The band also played "The Dead March" from "Saul."

The Russian quintet played Chopin's Funeral March, Grieg's "Ase's Death," and a selection from Rubenstein last night.

ALLEGED NEW WILL OF QUEEN MAY BE FILED FOR PROBATE MONDAY

No new developments were reported today in the pending litigation over the estate of the late Queen Liliuokalani. Attorneys for John F. Colburn expect to file the purported will of Aug. 29, 1917, next Monday, and with it motion for its probate. At the same time the will executed by the queen in 1909 will probably be filed by the trustees of the Liliuokalani Trust, this will having been made shortly after the trust deed was completed.

Attorneys on both sides have agreed to launch no litigation until after the funeral is over, and it is expected this will be followed out unless it is absolutely necessary that action be taken immediately.

BODY OF QUEEN SEALED IN COFFIN AT MIDNIGHT

In the presence of only Prince and Princess Kalaniana'ole, Col. and Mrs. Curtis P. Lauke, Mrs. Lahilahi Webb and a very old Hawaiian woman the body of Her Majesty, Liliuokalani, was placed in a steel coffin just before the hour of midnight last night and sealed, probably forever from mortal eyes. H. H. Williams, who had charge of all the work connected with the final putting away of the Queen's remains, has acted as undertaker for all state funerals in Hawaii since the beginning of the Kalakaua dynasty, with the single exception of Princess Kaiulani, whose burial arrangements were looked after by his brother.

Some time before daylight Sunday morning, after the Queen's body has been removed to the throne room, the steel coffin will be placed in the splendid casket of koa wood now being made by Lucas Brothers.

Tickets on sale now for Ballet Russe at Laniaka, November 21, 22, 23, 24. Adv.

JAPANESE VOTE CONDOLENCE ON DEATH OF QUEEN

At a meeting of the directors of the Japanese chamber of commerce yesterday afternoon the following resolution was passed:

"Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God to take from this earth Liliuokalani, last queen of the Kingdom of Hawaii, and for many years a loyal citizen of the United States, and

"Whereas, the residents of Hawaii, irrespective of race or nationality, have for many years honored and respected her for her personal qualities as well as the exalted position which she formerly held,

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, that we, the Japanese Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu in behalf of the Japanese community of the Territory of Hawaii, express our heartfelt sympathy to the Hawaiian people for the loss they have sustained in the death not only of their last monarch, but their foremost American citizen.

"And out of respect for her memory the Japanese Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu adjourns its meeting.

"Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the Japanese, Hawaiian and English newspapers published in the City of Honolulu and to His Excellency, Lucius E. Pinkham, Governor of the Territory of Hawaii, and to the Hon. Jonah K. Kalaniana'ole.

"Japanese Chamber of Commerce of Honolulu.
"By K. YAMAMOTO,
"Its Acting President.
"T. SUMIDA,
"Secretary."

PUPILS WILL DO HONOR TO QUEEN FRIDAY MORNING

(Continued from page 1)

also made by the boys of the Honolulu Military academy, represented by the commission officers who have charge of the military training of the boys. Due to the great distance of the academy from the city, and the fact that many of the students have recently been inoculated, there will be no procession of the academy boys, the entire school being represented by the officers in uniform.

L. G. Blackman, president of the Honolulu Military academy, and now acting superintendent of public instruction, has declared a half holiday for the academy on Friday, out of respect to the queen and in conformity with the territorial schools on that day. Every public school in the territory will close at noon Friday by order of the governor.

Kamehameha Schools honored the memory of the queen yesterday, the schools being closed and the boys and girls, accompanied by faculty members, going to Kawaiahao church where the body lay in state.

Out of respect to the queen the football game between Kamehameha and Punahou scheduled for next Saturday has been postponed till a later date, to be determined.

The procession which will start from Thomas square at 10 o'clock Friday morning will be led by the pupils from the eighth grade of the school named for the queen, Liliuokalani, with T. H. Gibson, principal, or some teacher whom he will designate in charge. The other schools, their principals and the order in which they will march are as follows:

Kaahumanu, C. W. Baldwin, principal; Royal, Cyril O. Smith, principal; Central Grammar, Mrs. Sophie Overend; Kaula, Mrs. Isabella L. Creighton; Kaiulani, Mrs. Nina D. L. Fraser; Kalihiwaena, I. M. Cox; Normal, Edgar Wood; McKinley High, M. M. Scott, principal.

JAPANESE CONSUL THINKS NEW PACT WILL PROVE GOOD

While he had received no official word up till noon today, that negotiations between the United States and Japan had been completed whereby Japan denotes her shipping and America raises the embargo on steel, Consul-General R. Moroi for Japan to Hawaii, stated that if the new agreement had actually been made on this matter it would not only be of benefit to Japan but it would also tend to bring the Japanese people and the people of the United States to a greater understanding and would secure a better feeling between the citizens of both countries.

"While the people of Japan and the United States have always understood one another fully, the agreement on the matter of patrolling the Pacific was the first tie to bring them closer together and this raising of the embargo on steel will be another tie that will bind the two nations as one," remarked Mr. Moroi.

"It was but natural that the people thrown out of employment in Japan when the embargo on steel was laid, should have felt grieved, but now they will be glad once more and the very highest feeling and regard for America will prevail."

Bilton—Aren't you spending too much? Mrs. Bilton—No, dear; you don't make enough for me to do that. —Life

FRED B. SMITH PROGRAM

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 14—Ad Club luncheon held at noon on the roof garden of the Young hotel.

7:00 p. m.—Student Assembly of Kamehameha school for boys.

7:30 p. m.—Inter-church mass meeting at Christian church, D. C. Peters presiding, music by Christian church.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 15—7:55 a. m.—McKinley High School assembly.

8:20 a. m.—Punahou assembly. 9:00—Mills School.

1:30 p. m.—25th Infantry. 7:15 p. m.—Student Assembly Y. M. C. A. Night School.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 16—1:30 p. m.—Fort Shafter. 6:00 p. m.—Intermediate dinner Y. M. C. A.

7:30 p. m.—Student rally Y. M. C. A. Games hall.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 17—3:00 p. m.—At Castner. 7:30 p. m. to 8:00 p. m.—Music by Royal Hawaiian Glee club in Japanese Nuuanu Street church.

8 p. m.—Japanese Men's mass meeting at Nuuanu street church.

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 18—3:00 p. m.—Dedication of the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A.

7:30 p. m.—Men's mass meeting at the Bijou theater. Double quartet from Central Union church, and the Y. M. C. A. Orchestra.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 19—College of Hawaii, student assembly.

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 25—11:00 a. m.—Mr. Smith speaks at the Methodist church.

4:00 p. m.—Women's meeting at the Y. W. C. A.

7:30 p. m.—Men's mass meeting at the Bijou theater. Male quartet and the Y. M. C. A. orchestra.

SMITH HERE FOR TWO BUSY WEEKS OF LIVE MISSION

Businessman-Evangelist Arrives Just in Time for First Address

Welcoming the opportunity to visit Hawaii again, Fred B. Smith, noted businessman-evangelist, arrived in Honolulu on the Wilhelmina today for a stay of about two weeks in the islands, during which time he is to deliver a series of addresses to business men, church members, students and men in the army and navy.

Mr. Smith's first engagement on reaching here was with the Ad club, which acted as host to the noted speaker at a rousing meeting on the roof garden of the Alexander Young hotel, where Mr. Smith delivered one of his brief, vigorous messages that have won him the title of "businessman's man." It was Mr. Smith's desire that his first address in Honolulu be to the businessmen, and the Ad club was given the opportunity of acting as host to businessmen of all kinds.

At 7 o'clock this evening Mr. Smith will address a student assembly at the Kamehameha boys' school, and at 7:30 o'clock an inter-church mass meeting will be held in the Christian church where Mr. Smith will deliver an address on the topic "A New Emphasis in Religion." Schools will be visited tomorrow.

Mr. Smith was brought forcefully in touch with Hawaiians several years ago when he conducted an evangelistic campaign here with Raymond Robbins, also a noted evangelist. The campaign was characterized by the most successful of its kind ever held in the territory.

Looking a bit younger, if anything, and with the same cheery, winning smile and hearty handshake that won him so many friends when he last visited here, Smith registered at the Alexander Young hotel shortly before noon today and then conferred with the general committee in charge of his local program. Mrs. Smith is with him, a bride of a few days.

"I was convinced from the first that the appeal for me to come to Honolulu would have to be a strong one," the big man told a Star-Bulletin representative. "The first appeal came nearly six months ago. The war was coming on and I was on the verge of cancelling my engagement here. "But the appeal was too strong," he continued. "If you can strike a blow in Honolulu that will be of material help, then go, I said to myself. So I came.

"We are going to have a new hour in the Pacific ocean. The war is going to bring it about. It is going to be responsible for the entire situation. And the part the Hawaiian Islands are going to play will be of material importance to the nation."

Briefly, Mr. Smith told of the many attempts now being made on the mainland to hoard foodstuffs and to keep prices up, and related how a public demonstration was recently held in the streets of Portland, Oregon, against the speculators. "The activities of these speculators constitute the most vicious type of black-legging," declared Mr. Smith. In his talks in Honolulu he will deal to some extent with these activities and what he has to say undoubtedly will be of interest to everyone.

Poni, small treasured descendant of many canines tribes, faithful to the beloved presence of the queen by her death, has found a comforter in Mrs. Lahilahi Webb, who, through the expressed wish of Her Majesty a few weeks before her death, is now Poni's mistress. The dog was the queen's constant companion to her death.

STORAGE

WE STORE EVERYTHING
JAMES H. LOVE
CITY TRANSFER COMPANY
PHONE 1281.
"APPENDICITIS"
is in pamphlet form, telling how Chiropractors remove the cause of appendicitis in from two to five days, without the knife.
It's worth a trial first!
F. C. MIGHTON, D. C.
204-5 Boston Bldg. (Over May's).

AMERICAN LAWYERS TO BE CONSULTED IN CASE

(Special Cable to Nippon Jiji)

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 14.—The Ozawa naturalization committee of the joint Japanese associations of the Pacific coast has arrived at a decision, after having conferred with Viscount K. Ishii, the head of the Japanese war mission to the United States, to consult three of the most eminent lawyers of the country for the legal opinions on the question of naturalization of the Japanese. The three lawyers, whose advices will be sought by the committee, are yet to be chosen.

The committee also decided to distribute pamphlets among the Americans and the Japanese in the United States to mould the public opinion in favor of giving American citizenship to the worthy Japanese petitioners.

CITIZENS THROUGH TAX OFFICE TO PAY DUES

With tomorrow the last day on which taxes may be paid without becoming delinquent, a steady stream of people is passing today before the paying window in the Oahu tax office.

No estimate of the amount of taxes paid thus far for the half-year has been made by the tax officers, but it is believed that delinquents will be few. The high cost of living does not seem to have manifested itself in a holding back of tax money.

Big corporations are today filing their lists of clients and checks to cover them, all of which can be handled at the desks and saves much work at the paying window.

Woman suffrage was endorsed by the National Council of Congregational churches in session at Columbus, O.

New Models in House Dresses
and Bungalow Aprons
arrived this week and are now on display.

SACHS'
Hotel St., near Fort

WALL & DOUGHERTY

Have You
Selected
Your Christmas Cards?

WE STILL HAVE A FEW
ATTRACTIVE NUMBERS
AND THE TIME FAST APPROACHES WHEN YOU WILL WANT TO SEND THEM ON THEIR MISSION OF GREETING.

WALL & DOUGHERTY

Jewelers Opticians

Alexander Young Bldg.